Art Unit: 3621

1. Claims 1-90 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Taken as a whole the claims recite an undue multiplicity of claims by virtue of the unreasonable number of claims presented would tend to obfuscate, confuse, and becloud the claimed invention. Because the examiner believes that in his judgment that twenty-five (25) claims are sufficient to properly define applicants' invention, applicants are required to select certain claims, not to exceed twenty-five for examination on the merits, See M.P.E.P. 2173.05(n). To be complete the non-selected claims must be cancelled or the applicant(s) must present appropriate arguments as to why the above rejection is in error. Note most patents (80%) have less than twenty claims while patents in excess of 40 claims have been deemed by the Office to be an unreasonable number (See Federal Register: October 5, 1998 (Volume 63, Number 192, Page 53507)). Less than one half of one percent of applications have 90 claims. Note also the new excess claim fees effective 12/8/04 as evidence of what is considered to be unreasonable.

Applicants are being afforded the courtesy of a written response due to the complexity of the case.
